

Being Man

Weekend Retreat

Transformative tantric practices for men who desire real relating with women

Whether you are single, happy in your relationship or unhappy in your relationship, this retreat will help you to understand women and to be able to connect more effectively, bringing out your best qualities and guiding you to connect with the essence of woman.

The more still a man is internally, the more attractive he becomes to women. Women desire a man who is able to bring a quality of inner peace, allowing her to feel safe to surrender and let go into her deepest feminine

During this retreat, we will cover the following:

- ▶ Discovering your internal place of stillness
- ▶ Communicating with women to bring out their best
- ▶ How to touch a woman so that she keeps coming back for more
- ▶ Use tantric practices to make deep and passionate love to a woman
- ▶ Understanding your own sexual energy and power
- ▶ Learning how to become multi-orgasmic
- ▶ Being clear on your priorities as a man
- ▶ Having healthy, fulfilling and loving relationships with women which meet your needs and allow for the space that you desire and know in your deepest heart.

About the retreat

Billabong Retreat, one hour north of Sydney, is a retreat centre that has been purpose-built for wellbeing and personal development retreats. It is situated on 12 acres of stunning natural bush surrounding two beautiful billabongs, providing the perfect backdrop for the journey into your own wildness and inner terrain. Our workshop activities will be conducted in a yurt-like circular building which allows for great flow of energy activation. Accommodation is in shared cabins nestled into the bush.

Food

Organic vegetarian food will be provided – dinner on Thursday night; breakfast, lunch and dinner on Friday and Saturday; breakfast and lunch on Sunday.

“One of the deepest feminine pleasures is when a man stands full, present, and unreactive in the midst of his woman’s emotional storms. David Deida

What will you experience during the weekend ?

Tantric Blossoming is dedicated to creating spaces for your inner and outer transformation, using a combination of tantric practices with breathwork, dance, silent meditation, active meditation, massage, polarity work, conscious choice, self enquiry and more.

Special features offered only in this weekend retreat:

- ▶ Be received by a group of women who will provide feedback on how they experience your masculine energy.
- ▶ Question and answer time with a panel of women who have explored tantra and relationships extensively – ask those questions you always wanted to ask women!!
- ▶ Activities that will enhance your masculine power and potency.
- ▶ How to truly support a woman to open and feel surrendered in your presence.
- ▶ Why you need to stop apologising for being a man and claim your true source of power!

Facilitators

Martina Hughes

Martina's passion and life's work is creating spaces where men and women can experience deeper, meaningful connections with their unique essence and also with their intimate partner, friends, family and community. She is inspired to support people in knowing who they are, being able to live in alignment with their inner being and to restore the masculine and feminine polarity in our world.

In Martina's words, "Tantra has been and continues to be my greatest teacher – for me, tantra is about all of life – the way I eat, the way I treat my body, the way I meditate, the way I relate to friends and family, the way I connect with my intimate partner as well as how I experience my sexual energy."

David Anderson

David is passionate about working with men and women to create freedom from the past so they can experience wholeness, authenticity and clear expression for sexual and intimate relationships. David has an incredible capacity to be present, bringing awareness, presence and compassion to his clients, wherever they are in life.

In David's words, "My intention for men is to empower you to be the masculine man you know within, to heal your emotional pain so you can realise and be in your power as man... Standing on the earth as a sexual being with your masculine energy and empowering yourself to use this energy."

Assistants

The assistants for these retreats are chosen specifically for their desire and interest to be of service in the awakening of humanity. Each assistant has undertaken his or her own journey of self discovery in order to be able to create a deep, loving and available presence to support participants in their transformation.
